We commit ourselves to taking care, hosting and feeding your mare "like a good father". The owner grants that his mare is healthy, has no contagious illness, that her vaccinations are up-to-date (flu, tetanus, rhino pneumonia) and that she has been dewormed for less than two months,

Moreover, you must provide us with :

- a copy of the animal identification document (American paper + Sire Number)
- a copy of the vaccination certificate
- a metritis examination

Some medical treatments or technical handling like the laying of shackles, tie up, unloading or loading in a van, leaving the horse alone in a meadow or with other horses, blowing, rectal gynecological examinations, (with or without scan) or vaginal, injections..... (non-exhaustive list ) can be necessary to reach the objective or for the safeguard of the animal.

They present some risks for that one and it is often materially impossible to reach the owner to advise him of our intention or of the necessity to practice such a handling or manipulation.

The owner gives us the authorization to practice or ask Dr. Carlier and Contet, or Dr. Demazet, to practice those handlings or manipulations, and commits himself , in case of an accident, not to invoke the argument that if he had been advised of the manipulation or of the risk of this manipulation, he would have refused it.

We reserve the right to refuse to cover a mare that does not fulfill the required sanitary conditions.

The owner, after having inspected the installations, fences, lands, declares not to make any reserves.

The present convention can be denounced by one or the other party, with a five-day notice.

Insurances:

We take charge of the public liability insurance for the risks resulting of the care and use of the mare and his foal in the absence of his owner.

The owner takes charge of the mortality insurance by contracting an insurance of his choice.

It is agreed that the owner renounces to any proceedings against us in the hypothesis of an accident arisen to the mare or to the foal, not engaging expressly our personal responsibility.
